

CCC Kids Values - 7 + Fun

Relevant Truth

We believe God's truth is told through the pages of the Bible and it is timeless. We also believe it is important to communicate that truth in a way that is relevant to children regardless of their church experience. If we can capture their minds through relevance, we'll capture their hearts with truth.

Partnering with Parents

Parents are the primary spiritual leaders to their children. We want to partner with parents to help them raise their children in faith and character. They have far more time and influence with their children than we do, and together we can have a much greater impact than we can working alone.

Relationships

Relationships are the core of what Christianity is all about. Jesus talked about it as loving God and loving our neighbors. In CCC Kids we want to keep relationships at the core of everything we do, as we seek relationships marked by love, trust, commitment, support, and friendliness.

Team

We believe the best things are accomplished through teams. Even God works through a team (an all-star team of course) and He called the church to be a body, working together for His purposes. We want to have great, healthy, unified teams that are committed to serving families through CCC Kids.

Safety

Parents want to know their children are safe at all times. We have numerous systems and policies in place to ensure the safety of all kids who are involved in Children's Ministry at CCC.

Focus

We believe the more focused we are the better our results will be. Rather than do many things, we want to do a few things as well as we possibly can. Complexity breeds confusion and dilutes effectiveness. By focusing our time, energy, talent and resources we can produce the greatest impact in the things we choose to do.

Quality

Jesus told a parable about men who were given resources and were held accountable to how well they used them. His point was that regardless of how much talent or resources we have, we are expected to make the most of them. In CCC Kids we want to do everything with quality because we want nothing to get in the way of somebody's opportunity to find their way back to God.
